

GERMS MADE HARMLESS

Rich red blood is the power that keeps the human body in order. Every day many germs of disease enter our bodies but they are made harmless and passed off by the fighting forces of the body in good condition. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood, enable it to absorb more oxygen, the agent which burns up the body poisons. In this way Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are not only a tonic but a specific for the host of diseases that come as a result of thin blood and that can get a foot-hold only when the tone of the body is low.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make the blood rich and red, and strengthen the nerves.

Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness, sciatica. Build up your blood and note how the purer and richer blood fights your battle against the disease. Take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that with the observance of ordinary rules of health will keep you well and strong. Get a box from the nearest drug store and begin this treatment now.

"NOT IN POLITICS," SAYS GOETHALS

Wouldn't Accept Presidential or Gubernatorial Nomination, Engineer Declares.

New York, March 20.—Col. George Goethals, asked here as to the truth of a printed story that George W. Perkins was grooming him for a presidential nomination by desire of Col. Roosevelt, yesterday declared:

"I'm not in politics and I wouldn't under any consideration take a presidential or gubernatorial nomination."

Asked as to whether he would become police commissioner of New York, Goethals said, "that depends a great deal on what turns up."

TIED UP $12,000,000 ESTATE.

Trustees Hold Her Property Until She Is 35 Years Old.

Providence, R. I., March 20.—Lord Camoys has been eliminated from participation in the estate of Lady Camoys, who was formerly Mildred Constance Sherman, daughter of Mrs. William Watts Sherman of New York. This fact has become known through the filing for official record of the prenuptial agreement entered into by the English nobleman and his American wife.

The agreement states that all property belonging to Miss Sherman has been transferred to Frank W. Matteson and Fletcher S. Mason of Providence, who are to hold her property in trust until she reaches the age of 35. This, however, does not affect her personal property. Until she reaches the stated age all income is to be paid her from the estate, and when the trust expires the property is to be surrendered to her. In case of her own or Lord Camoys' death the estate is to go to her heirs or assigns forever.

KERN DOWNS TAGGART

Forces Committee to Adopt a Primary Law Plank

FIGHT WAGED ALL NIGHT LONG

Majority Finally Bows to Will of the Administration

Indianapolis, March 20.—After an all-night session, the resolutions committee of the Democratic state convention adopted a state-wide primary law plank at 5 a. m. yesterday. This action was taken on the firm demand of Senators Kern and Shively and Congressmen Barnhart, Cullop and Adair, and was opposed by a majority of the 13 committee members until the last moment. When this action was taken, Mayor Joseph E. Bell of Indianapolis, chairman of the committee, is said to have declared:

"The members of this committee have been made the pall bearers of the Democratic party in Indiana."

Mayor Bell made a public statement after the adjournment of the committee. He said:

"Only one member deemed the sweeping primary plank advisable. This plank was, however, strongly urged by Senator Kern, Senator Shively and Congressmen Cullop, Barnhart and Adair. Rather than appear disregarding the wishes of the administration we included this plank. It is practically as President Wilson desired it."

The committee refused to indorse woman suffrage. Thomas Taggart, Democratic national committeeman, has controlled the resolutions committee, and the action of the committee yesterday is taken to mean that Taggart bowed to the national administration in its wish for a state-wide primary plank. Taggart was in close touch with the committee throughout the night.

IMMIGRATION BILL REPORTED

The Senate Committee Retains Dillingham Literacy Test in the Measure.

Washington, March 20.—The Burnett immigration bill, with its literacy test, was favorably reported by the Senate immigration committee yesterday.

AUTO TRUCK PROVED WORTH.

Saved Children's Home in Burlington from Destruction.

Burlington, March 20.—Fire in the cellar of the laundry building of the Home for Destitute Children on the Shelburne road yesterday caused considerable damage which might have been greater but for the swift run made by the auto truck to the scene of the blaze.

A telephone call was sent to station No. 1 in the vicinity of 11 o'clock and the auto truck from stations 4 and 5 responded to the scene of the blaze. Considering the condition of the roads the LaFrance truck made a remarkable run, in less than three minutes from the time of the call water having been turned on the blaze. The distance is two miles and three tenths. Two streams and the chemical was directed on to the flames which had gained considerable headway, and owing to the difficulty in getting at the fire the firemen were forced to fight for nearly an hour before the blaze was subdued and the building saved.

It is thought that an overheated furnace or steam pipes along the wood work, was the cause of the blaze. The damage was confined to the cellar and is covered by insurance.

RAISE MILK PRICE.

New England Producers Ask Increase of Two Cents a Can.

Boston, Mass., March 20.—New England milk producers have served notice upon contractors that they will expect an increase of two cents in the price of each eight and one-half quart can sold during the next six months.

The Games That Gamblers Play Among Themselves.

In the March American Magazine Hugh S. Fullerton writes an interesting article entitled "American Gambling and Gamblers." Following is an extract: "Gamblers play three games among themselves: draw poker, stud poker, and faro. These three are gamblers' games; two because nerve, brains, and close study of human nature enter into them, and faro because the odds in favor of the bank are smaller than in any of the other recognized games of chance. The fact that faro is purely chance when dealt straight fascinates the gambler even more than it does the novice.

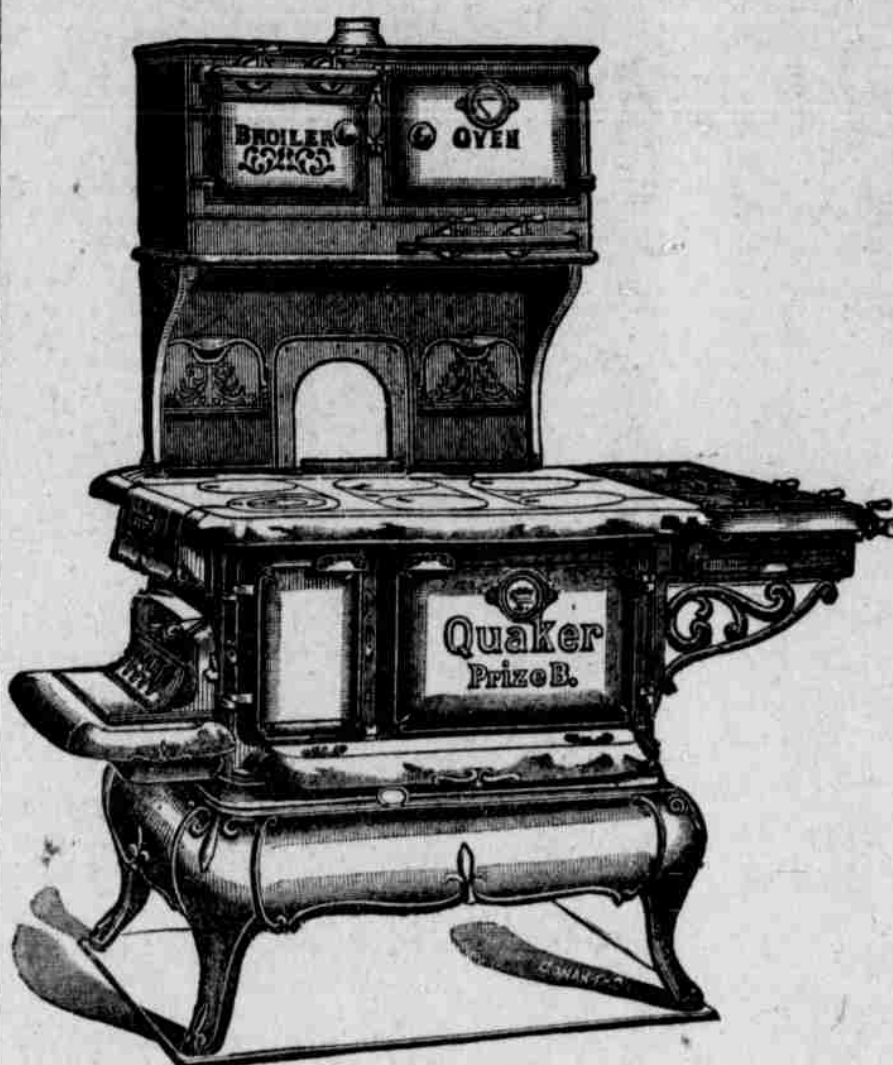

"The fact that faro and poker of all kinds have fallen into comparative disuse is proof that the old-time gambler is passing. The commercializing and organization of gambling, larger and more percentage of winnings, have made these games undesirable. The gamblers now in power need heavier percentages in their favor in order to meet expenses for graft and protection. Either they must resort to cheating or plain stealing, or entice their victims into games in which they practically have not a chance to win."

CURRENT COMMENT

Barre's Characteristic Manner.

Barre goes after the money needed for the new city hospital in characteristicly vigorous manner.—Montpelier Argus.

Congressman Plumley.

The news that Congressman Plumley will not stand for a re-nomination has been generally expected. He has done creditably in an office which was not wholly pleasant. When he entered the House of Representatives Washington wanted to know why Vermont should have displaced the popular Kittredge Haskins and should have disregarded a practice which has made Vermont important in Congress. It was not for Mr. Plumley to explain and the many friends of the former congressman continued to wonder. Mr. Plumley found the atmosphere not entirely hospitable or congenial. As far as he is concerned, time has probably changed all that; but the fact remains that wholly without fault on the part of Mr. Plumley, Vermont has not gained through sending him to Congress what his abilities and his sincerity of purpose should have yielded. We wish him all good luck and happiness as a private citizen and may his successor at Washington be as worthy to uphold the best traditions of Vermont.—Windsor Journal.

"For Life."

Not only in Vermont, where the Carnegie Foundation survey has been stirring the inmost valleys, not only in New Hampshire, where the larger cities are discussing technical high schools, but in our own state, where the board of education is making a special study of the rural scholar, experts are urging that we "educate for life." No better motto could be lettered on a schoolhouse.

But "life" needs more explanation than it gets, even from our own state board. We all treat the nervous things as if they were the realists. Wages, debts, pie and coffee, machinery and house lots get more notice than the laws of nature, the page of history, the bare principles of conduct. Perhaps it is well that the closer aspects of life are the clearer.

Yet every boy, as a member of his race, ought to know at least in outline the larger wonder of the world he has entered, the larger world his kind has traveled, the interests that can draw him from himself and make him more the friend than the drudge of his fellows. To tell a boy of roads and hens, looms and motors, is to do him no small favor; but to paint these things as real life is to blind him to his birthright. In fairness to the child and to his parents, let the experts call a chore a chore and a job a job. And in these days of industrialism on the one side and mere

Don't Let a Cold Settle on Your Lungs

Many cases of Lung Trouble can be traced directly to a severe cold which has been neglected, and which, as a result, has affected the lungs. If you have a persistent cold or cold, take warning before it is too late. Eckman's Alternative is a medicinal preparation and has been the means of completely restoring to health many persons who had serious lung trouble. Pleasantly, N. J.

"Gentlemen: During the winter of 1913 I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs. The doctor pronounced it lung trouble. I tried nearly every preparation without any result and kept getting worse. Eckman's Alternative was recommended to me and I commenced using it as a last resort. The first bottle seemed to give me relief; in fact, I seemed to feel better. I kept on using the medicine and found out the first bottle had really started me on the road to recovery by loosening the mucus and making me expectorate freely. After using the medicine for some time my cough ceased. I gained flesh and today I am a well man." (Signed) GEO. M. HATES.

aestheticism on the other, every teacher should be taking double pains to keep both girls and boys reminded of what they will know by themselves—that real life stands not so much in technical abilities however much to be desired, as in outlook and inner resource.—Boston Herald.

Seeking the Man.

Expressing a yearning for more business and less politics in state affairs, the Burlington (Vt.) Clipper proposes that Theodore N. Vail of Lyndonville be drafted as a non-partisan candidate for governor. In these heightened regards we should refer to Mr. Vail as president of the American Telephone & Telegraph company, but to Vermonters that $100,000 position is incidental to his residence in the Green Mountain state. Although he is not a native of the state, Mr. Vail is, according to the enthusiastic Clipper, "a true-blue Vermonter, proud of her noble past and optimistic for her great future." His large business interests, it is related, often take him to many parts of the world, but "whether you find him at the Ritz-Carlton in London or the Palace in San Francisco, you will always see this on the hotel register: Theodore N. Vail, Lyndonville, Vt. Mr. Vail, doubtless, would make a most acceptable governor of Vermont. He gave the Vermonters some advice about the development of their state recently which made a decided hit. Yet it is hardly possible that he could give up his great financial responsibilities even to set a state on the highway to prosperity. But we would not have the Vermonters despair in their desire for a business governor. One of the distinguished sons of the state has just had three years' experience in governing. Failing to get Mr. Vail, would not the sterling citizenry from the Green Mountains do well to send a delegation to Jamaica Plain and bid our newest ex-governor to go and reign over them?—Boston Traveler.
